Mumbai: The beleaguered residents of Bandra's Pereira Wadi finally got some relief on Thursday when chief minister Vilasrao Deshmukh intervened and ordered a halt to further demolition of their 125-year-old enclave.

Residents and local activists have alleged that a senior Congress minister, interested in the redevelopment of this prime property, was behind the demolition of their homes.

On Thursday, a delegation of some residents led by Joseph Dias of the Catholic Secular Forum and Edwin Britto of the Janata Dal met the CM and deputy CM R R Patil to complain about the manner in which the police had cordoned off the area and allowed the "builder's men" to raze their homes early this week.

Deshmukh promptly initiated an inquiry into the incident and the alleged manipulation and fraud in the redevelopment of Pereira Wadi. Patil, who is also the home minister, ordered a probe into the police's "heavy-handedness". For the last three days, TOI has been reporting on how families, including women and senior citizens,
